

I urge you to stand behind and support RM11392 As written. In today's world many would like to make you think that just because something is NEW it must be a bandwidth hog. And that it should be ok to QRM already existing QSOs just for the sake of a few hams.. We must uphold the high standards afforded to all Hams. And not give in to some few just in the name of "Because I Can."

If modes like Pactor when used with Winlink2K were to use "Good Operating Procedures" then we could all get a long a lot better. But history has proven that being a Good Neighbor is secondary to operating as they please.. You have received many reports of QRM to the various existing QSOs on our Hams Bands, you also know the response that was given when those complaints were against operators of Winlink2k.. You already hold all the facts you need... Do the right thing and support this proposal to the fullest extent of its intentions.

I wish you to note as well that the myriad of comments from those opposed are merely close or exact copies of previous posts and hold no merit at all other then to make it look like there are a lot of Hams AGIANST this proposal.

Please review each and every comment for its relative merit not for its CLONING effect...

Good day gentlemen and happy New year.
